Dyson Relay

The 240 runners at this race fell only nine short of last year's record Dyson (and APSOC) field. The 67 female competitors were also nine short of the Dyson and APSOC record of 2008.

Old Scotch was the surprise winner to record their 32nd win in the event and their first team win since 2002.

Old Xaverians women won for the third time in a club record time of 55:54. Only Old Wesley (55:46) in 2002 had run faster over the course.

Old Xaverians fielded a record nine teams in the open category (bettering Old Scotch's eight teams at the 1979 Dyson) and a record seven women's teams (four being the previous best on several occasions by a number of clubs). Their total of sixteen complete teams and 84 competitors are unparalleled figures for a club in any APSOC event.
